

2 player
1D6 only allowed

players each roll the D6

if neither has a 6, you do not get to play the game this go.

if BOTH have a 6, the second to roll must (probably will) roll 2 more sixes, then he is Super-Rowan, if not same as above

OTHERWISE if one has a six he is Rowan the other is Kris

* * *

Rowan starts with a grue kill count of 29

Kris starts with a kill count of zero but makes all the decisions about card placement, distance, and who uses the cube or the marble each turn

(Super-Rowan does everything himself)

up to 11 rounds (depending on rule variation)
